

Ironhouse Sanitary District Appoints New Board Member

Ironhouse Sanitary District's Board of Directors has appointed Diego Verduzco to fill the vacated position formerly held by Susan Morgan. He will be sworn in at the October 21, 2025, Board meeting at Ironhouse's main office at 6:30 p.m. This meeting is open to the public, and all are welcome to attend.

Diego is a lifelong resident of Oakley, California, where he is deeply committed to public service and community well-being. With a strong background in infrastructure planning and policy evaluation, he has served as a Planning Commissioner for the City of Oakley and currently works as an Infrastructure Analyst. His work across the planning commission and his role as an analyst spans zoning, environmental review, and strategic resource allocation, reflecting a dedication to ethical governance and sustainable development.

He holds a Master of Public Administration (MPA) and brings advanced expertise in process implementation and improvement, statistical reasoning, and stakeholder engagement. Diego is known for his analytical rigor, transparent leadership style, and ability to translate complex data into actionable public policy. His professional focus centers on building resilient systems that serve the public equitably and efficiently.

Outside of his professional life, Diego is raising his teenage daughter in the city he has always called home. He enjoys staying active in the community and finds joy in outdoor activities such as hiking, exploring new cities, and traveling. His lifelong connection to Oakley and passion for civic engagement continue to shape his commitment to meaningful public service.

Ironhouse Sanitary District welcomes Diego and looks forward to his knowledge and expertise serving the District's mission of protecting public health, safety, and the environment for Oakley and Bethel Island.
